

All you ever wanted to know about property, but thought it was too expensive to ask!!

An Ethical Property Foundation Seminar devised in partnership with Tom Appleby (Solicitor and Senior Law Lecturer, University of West of England) and Rhona Forster (Head of Commercial Property, Metcalfes)

Monday 9th November, 10am-2pm – The Conference Room, Metcalfes Solicitors, 46-48 Queen Square, Bristol, BS1 4LY

Thinking about your organisation's property needs but don't know where to start?

Want to understand the legal implications of entering into a lease or licence agreement, but not sure what the difference is?

Unsure of your obligations under your existing agreement?

Want to understand the roles of different property professionals?

Are you frustrated by property "jargon"?

.....If so, this introductory seminar is for you!

What will the seminar cover?

- Understanding and making the most of what's special about charities
- Understanding different property interests
- Obligations in agreements to be wary of
- The different roles of property professionals, and when you might need to use them
- How to save time, money and effort

Who should attend?

Individuals from charities, social enterprises, voluntary sector or community groups who want to gain an understanding of the legal and practical implications of commercial property agreements and where to obtain advice and support

How much does it cost?

£40 per delegate (includes buffet lunch)...EARLY BIRD DISCOUNT: pay just £35 if you book before 30th October!
